

Where we want to go...

We are extremely grateful to all of those who have supported us in our first four months since inception. We want to continue our momentum and stay true to our values. We want to ensure people who are experiencing homelessness can manage their periods with dignity and on their terms. We believe all people deserve a choice in how they manage their periods and we believe together we will eradicate the stigmas related to periods. We hope to grow our service area, create partnerships with community organizations and facilitate awareness presentations for schools and community groups.
